Why

Why The Makers Society

The Makers Society is the leader in the UAE for woodworking.

We're the first in the area to bring a fresh approach to this old skill. Our place is more than just a workshop; it's a lively community where we keep the old ways of woodworking alive and mix them with new methods and tools.

Joining The Makers Society means you're not only learning how to work with wood, but you're also becoming part of a group that values and respects the history and beauty of woodworking.

The Woodworking Foundations Course is approved by the Knowledge and Human Development Authority (KHDA) in Dubai. Upon completion, students will receive a KHDA-recognized certificate.

Why

Why Woodworking Foundations

The Woodworking Foundations Course was crafted with a vision to provide passionate individuals an immersive yet flexible introduction to woodworking.

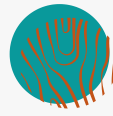

Recognizing the challenges of an 8-week commitment, we designed this shorter course to offer a comprehensive overview of woodworking fundamentals in a condensed timeframe. It is the perfect opportunity for those eager to learn and practice foundational skills, while also gaining confidence in the safe and effective use of woodworking machines.

By the end of the course, students will be well-prepared to independently operate the tools and confidently bring their creative ideas to life in projects made of solid wood.

Ethos

Our Ethos

At The Makers Society, we really care about woodworking as an important and timeless form of art.

Our goal is to help people become excellent at this craft, which has been around for thousands of years.

We think of woodworking as more than just a skill - it's a way to show creativity, patience, and careful work.

We want to help everyone who joins us to really understand and connect with woodworking.

At The Makers Society, we work to make a place where everyone can get better at woodworking, respect its long history, and also try new things in it.

Expertise

Teaching Expertise

Our Mastery Course is taught by skilled and passionate tutors. They bring their own professional experience and love for woodworking to the class.

These tutors are great at what they do and also really good teachers.

They do more than just teach; they guide, inspire, and help each student in their own way. They make sure you learn not just the skills for woodworking, but also the ideas and history behind them.

This way of teaching means you'll really understand woodworking, both how to do it and the thinking behind it.

Schedule

Class Schedule

Our Woodworking Foundations Course is designed to strike the perfect balance between structured learning and independent practice.

The core of your learning will take place on Saturdays and Sundays where, starting at 9 am to 2 pm, you'll engage in guided tuition sessions.

These sessions are tailored to enhance your skills and understanding of woodworking.

During the weekdays, from Tuesday to Friday, we offer you the flexibility of 16 hours per week of workshop access, where you will be assisted in your development by our expert tutors.

Access to the workshop during the week can be booked anytime between 9 am to 8 pm, according to your convenience.

It's a great chance for you to apply your newfound skills, experiment, and refine your techniques in a hands-on environment.

Resident Program Access

After the three-week course, students will receive one month of access to the workshop under the Resident Program for a maximum of 20 hours.

During this month, students may catch up on unused time from the course or start individual projects.

This ensures that you have every opportunity to complete your learning experience and make the most of the facilities at The Makers Society.

Upon successful completion of the course, participants will receive a KHDA-recognized certificate issued by The Makers Society.

Payment

Payment Terms

To secure your place in the course, a deposit of AED 2,500 is required at the time of registration.

The remaining balance of the fee will be paid before the start of the course.

By joining the Woodworking Foundations Course at The Makers Society, you are not just enrolling in a program; you are stepping into a world where your passion for woodworking is nurtured, your skills are honed, and your creativity is unleashed.

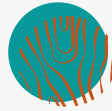

Welcome to a journey of discovery, mastery, and unparalleled craftsmanship.
